

Rachelle Crowder, MD

Specialty: Family Medicine

GOSHEN PHYSICIANS FAMILY MEDICINE - KEYSTONE

1808 Charlton Ct, Goshen, IN 46526 Get Directions

Existing Patients: 574-533-2599

New Patients: 574-537-5000

Biography

Rachelle Lee Crowder, MD, is a primary care physician at Goshen Physicians Family Medicine Keystone. As a family physician who enjoys taking care of people of all ages, Dr. Crowder appreciates the relationships that she has with her patients. She considers it an honor to be part of their lives. Her training and experience have prepared her to care for most of their physical, emotional and spiritual needs.

Philosophy of Care

Dr. Crowder finds great satisfaction in the relationships that she develops with her patients and enjoys partnering with them in their care. On the patient-doctor journey to wellness, Dr. Crowder enjoys being able to help her patients feel better when they are sick. Appreciating her patients and the opportunity to really get to know each of them along the way is very important to Dr. Crowder. Above all, Dr. Crowder believes it is an honor that her patients entrust her with their health concerns, being open to share their joys and sorrows. Her calling into medicine has always been to serve others with love, honor and respect. Her desire is to represent the highest spiritual principles as she fulfills the work that she has been called to do.

Research/Clinical Interest

- Holistic medicine
- Common illnesses
- Chronic diseases and management
- Preventive care and wellness

Education

Board Certified – Family Medicine

Education and training:

Doctor of Medicine

Indiana University School of Medicine | South Bend, IN
