Biography

Leah Sherman is a naturopathic doctor with Goshen Center for Cancer Care. She specializes in integrative oncology to support patients in all stages of conventional cancer treatment and beyond. Her evidence-based, natural therapies help patients manage cancer-related side effects, improve quality of life and support wellness.

Outside of her naturopathic practice, Dr. Sherman surrounds herself with family, pets and a love of the outdoors. She is an avid hiker and camper who travels the backroads and by-ways in a 1984 Volkswagen Vanagon camper bus.

Philosophy of Care

Dr. Sherman empowers patients to take an active role in their health and make positive lifestyle changes. Her approach focuses on caring for the whole patient, not just treating the disease.
