Biography

Lylian Hermann is a family nurse practitioner at Goshen Physicians Family Medicine Milford. She works closely with a clinical team of providers to deliver primary care for patients of all ages throughout the lifespan. Her services range from preventive care and wellness visits to treatment for acute illnesses and management of chronic diseases.

Lylian holds a particular interest in disease prevention through lifestyle modification, including nutrition, exercise and stress management. Fluent in Portuguese and Spanish, she serves as an interpreter to bridge communication barriers between patients and healthcare providers.

When Lylian is away from clinical medicine, she surrounds herself with family and friends. A lover of travel and the outdoors, Lylian also embraces new adventures and cultural diversity.

Philosophy of Care

Patient care is a partnership between provider and patient for Lylian. She considers all aspects of a patient's well-being to build a plan of care tailored to individual needs and goals.
