About Me

Todd Haney, MSN, FNP, is a family nurse practitioner with Goshen Physicians Family Medicine & Urgent Care. He provides care for patients of all ages who come to the facility for immediate medical attention. In addition to treating patients with common illnesses like a cold, ear infections or flu, Todd takes care of patients with minor injuries including fractures, cuts and burns.

Philosophy of Care

Previous experience in hospitals and emergency rooms has advanced Todd's approach to patient-centered care. He listens carefully to his patients to understand their concerns and provides treatment that best fits their needs. In addition, he helps patients better understand their condition and take an active role in making decisions about their care.
