About Me

Donald Ebersole, MD, is a board certified physician who has been practicing family medicine for 40 years. He treats diabetes and other chronic conditions; high cholesterol and hypertension; anxiety, depression and bipolar disorder; headaches and migraines; and illnesses, infections and injuries. In short, he provides the full continuum of family medical care from infants to seniors. When his patients are admitted to the hospital, a nursing home or assisted living, he continues to provide medical care.

Philosophy of Care

Dr. Ebersole believes that by providing complete care for the entire family and all age groups, and in all settings, he can provide the breadth of knowledge, experience and continuity of care that are important for family medical care.
