Biography

Hollyann Lambdin is a board certified nurse practitioner with Goshen Physicians OB/GYN. She provides specialized care for women of all ages to address a wide variety of women's health issues. Services she provides range from routine exams, screenings and wellness care to surgical and post-surgical care. Hollyann also serves as a surgical first assistant alongside OB/GYN surgeons in the operating room.

Hollyann is passionate about the physical, emotional and overall health of women. She considers health education vital for women as they move through each stage of life.

Prior to joining the obstetric and gynecology team, Hollyann worked closely with specialists at Goshen Physicians Pain Management to treat patients with chronic conditions. She has more than 15 years of experience in nursing.

Away from the office, Hollyann enjoys spending time with her husband and children, entertaining, cooking, traveling and attending Chicago Cubs baseball games and Notre Dame athletic events.

Philosophy of Care

For Hollyann, patient care begins with listening to patient concerns to understand their history and unique needs. She develops a personalized plan of care that she delivers with thoughtful compassion and concern. By fostering a close patient-provider relationship, Hollyann encourages women to take an active role in their health and wellbeing.
